ABOUT ROSTRUM

Who We Are

Rostrum Education supports students and families in their journey to gain admission to the world's most competitive universities. With personalised mentorship, expert guidance, and a proven track record, we help students craft strong, standout applications.

In the 2025 admissions cycle, our students secured 10+ Oxbridge offers and 15+ Ivy League offers, showcasing the strength of our strategies and the quality of our mentorship. From Oxford to Harvard, Cambridge to Columbia, we help ambitious students turn their aspirations into achievement.

With Rostrum, students benefit from a strategy that can increase their chances of admission by up to 5 times, helping them turn their ambition into achievement and applications into success stories.

Our Story

Rostrum was founded with a bold vision: to bridge the gap between conventional education and the evolving demands of a globalised world. It was born for students who aspired to study abroad, but only a few knew how to navigate the complex path to achieve this goal. Rostrum recognised that international students are often unaware of the opportunities abroad, and even if they are aware, they are not aware of the path to achieving their dreams. We bring together academic excellence with real-world skills, global exposure, and personalised mentorship, preparing students not just for college but for the future. Today, Rostrum is a leading education consultancy that has helped over 2,000 students from across 20+ countries achieve their dreams of attending Ivy League and Oxbridge institutions. Rostrum is now expanding and has established a presence in India, UK, USA, UAE, Hong Kong, and many more.

OUR FOUNDER

Yatharth Gulati

London School of Economics

An alumnus of the London School of Economics and former PwC Consultant in London, Yatharth combines rigorous academic excellence with practical industry insight. He leads Rostrum's mission to deliver honest, personalized guidance that helps ambitious students secure placements at top-tier institutions, including Oxbridge and the Ivy League.

With a proven track record of empowering over 2000 students from 20+ countries, Yatharth champions a mentorship-driven and outcomes-focused approach fostering not only admissions success but also long-term career readiness. Under his leadership, Rostrum continues to raise the bar in education consulting through strategic depth, attention to detail, and a global vision for student potential.

Our Mission

To be a trusted partner to students and families delivering honest guidance, deep expertise, and personal attention at every step, turning ambition into lasting achievement.

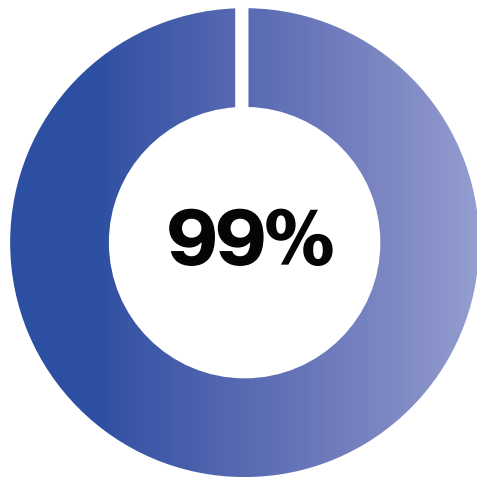

Our Vision

To redefine education consulting worldwide, where every outcome is shaped by clarity, tailored solutions, and a culture of trust, empathy, and measurable impact.

UNITED KINGDOM

What Do Universities Want in an Application?

UK universities take an academically focused approach to admissions, seeking evidence of strong subject knowledge and readiness for advanced study.

- * Academic Excellence: A strong undergraduate degree.
- * Subject Alignment: Your bachelor's degree should closely match your intended master's program.
- * Personal Statement: Focused on academic interests, research exposure, and why you are applying to that specific course and university.
- * References: Primarily academic referees (professors or lecturers).
- * Research Potential: For research-oriented tracks, proof of critical thinking and independent study ability is key.
- * Professional Experience: Valued for professional programs (e.g., MBA, Public Policy), but academics remain the priority.

What Do Universities Want in an Application?

US universities take an academically focused approach to admissions. They want to see evidence of strong subject knowledge and readiness for advanced study

- * Academic Record: A competitive GPA, with flexibility if other strengths stand out.
- * Standardized Tests: GRE/GMAT may be required, depending on the program.
- * Statement of Purpose: Story-driven and personal, highlighting your journey, challenges, leadership, and career goals.
- * Resume/CV: Internships, jobs, projects, volunteering, and leadership roles are key.
- * Letters of Recommendation: A mix of academic and professional references.
- * Extracurriculars & Leadership: Demonstrated initiative through clubs, community service, or entrepreneurship.
- * Cultural Fit: They want to know what you will contribute to the program and campus community.

At Rostrum, we don't believe in shortcuts or one-size-fits-all solutions. Every student we work with embarks on a thoughtful, guided process to bring out their best. This is about college admissions, it's about helping young people explore who they are, what excites them, and how to build a meaningful future. Our structured journey focuses on long-term growth, personal insight, and ethical mentorship, ensuring students are college-ready and life-ready.

Our Services in Detail

* Test Preparation (GRE/GMAT & beyond)

We provide structured guidance for GRE, GMAT, LSAT, LNAT and other postgraduate entrance exams. With curated resources, personalised study plans, mock tests, and performance reviews, we make sure students build the confidence and strategy needed to excel.

* Essay Writing & Editing

Your Statement of Purpose (SOP), Personal Statement, and application essays are at the heart of your application. We help students brainstorm ideas, structure multiple drafts, polish/edit their essays for clarity, engagement, and alignment with university values.

* CV/Resume Building

Our mentors assist in creating professional, impactful CVs and resumes tailored for academic and professional contexts that help you highlight your strengths, achievements, and leadership qualities in a concise, reader-friendly format.

* Research Papers (ERA Program)

Through Rostrum Education's Erudiens Research Apprenticeship (ERA) program, students gain opportunities to pursue high-quality, publishable research under subject experts. This not only strengthens applications but also establishes academic credibility.

* Interview Preparation

For courses that require competitive interviews, we provide rigorous mock interviews, strategy sessions, and real-time feedback, helping students demonstrate intellectual depth, confidence, and originality.

* Financial Aid & Scholarship Guidance

We guide through scholarship opportunities (need-based and merit-based), advise on external funding, and guide students through the financial documentation process to maximise chances of securing aid.

* Our Strategic Pillars

Students are matched with mentors who are Subject matter experts, Alumni and Professionals from top global universities. These mentors provide invaluable insights into course expectations, industry trends, and future career pathways.

* LinkedIn Profile Support

We help students polish their LinkedIn profiles to reflect academic achievements, internships, projects, and thought leadership that builds a professional brand aligned with global opportunities.

* Skill Enhancement and Knowledge Building

Beyond applications, Rostrum supports skill development in areas such as public speaking, academic writing, and professional networking, which equips students for success both in graduate school and beyond.

* Alumni Network Access

Rostrum has a wide-reaching alumni community. The students gain access to networking opportunities, insider insights, and mentorship from peers who have navigated similar academic and career paths.

* Internship Opportunities

We assist students in finding and applying for meaningful internships that align with their academic and career goals. From resume tailoring and cover letter guidance to networking strategies and interview prep, we ensure students secure opportunities that add value to their profile and provide real-world experience.

Spotlight

After a decade of decorated service in the Border Security Force, Abhishek sought to transition from operational leadership to shaping systemic change through public policy. Leading counter-insurgency and anti-trafficking operations, and designing multi-crore modernization strategies integrating AI-enabled surveillance and data analytics revealed policy gaps he wanted to address at a higher level.

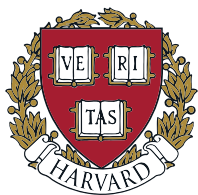

KUMAR ABHISHEK

Academic Focus:
Public Policy & Governance

Target Country:
USA & UK

Application Year:
2024

Admits: Harvard University

- ✦ Course Selection Strategy: Given his ambition to influence policy at the intersection of security, governance, and social justice, we targeted top global MPP programs with strong networks and funding opportunities. As a married professional relocating with his family, financial aid was a decisive factor. We helped identify institutions that would recognise his exceptional career trajectory and offer meaningful support resulting in multiple admits, including Harvard with the prestigious George Mason Fellowship and additional scholarships reducing his tuition burden to just $22,446.
- ✦ Skill Development: To strengthen the academic foundation of his profile, Abhishek completed Harvard's Public Leadership Credential and courses in computational analysis, adding a quantitative dimension that boosted his competitiveness for elite policy programs.
- ✦ Application Excellence & Scholarship Outcomes: We guided Abhishek in transforming his decade-long field insights into academically grounded narratives, connecting his first-hand experience of policy failures to global debates in governance and inclusion. This approach secured him offers from some of the world's most selective policy schools, along with significant financial aid.

Nandana developed a quantitatively driven business analytics application positioned at the intersection of data, strategy, and decision-making. Coming from a Management and Finance background, her profile was built around a consistent interest in understanding how data can reduce uncertainty and improve outcomes across businesses, institutions, and communities. Growing up in a farming family exposed her to the consequences of decisions being made with limited information, shaping an early awareness of how access to data influences opportunity and growth.

2025-26

Admits: UCLA

✧ Common Application & Personal Narrative: The central narrative across Nandana's application was her fascination with how information shapes decisions. Her story originated from personal observations of the agricultural ecosystem in which she grew up, where outcomes were often determined by imperfect information, changing market conditions, and unpredictable external factors. Across her essays, Nandana consistently presented herself as someone interested not simply in collecting data, but in transforming information into actionable insights that drive meaningful decisions. Whether analysing the impact of artificial intelligence on education, participating in economic simulations, or evaluating business growth opportunities, she framed analytics as a practical tool for solving problems and creating greater accessibility to information for underserved stakeholders.

✧ Academic Development & Intellectual Inquiry: Nandana's academic profile reflected a strong foundation in business, finance, and quantitative problem-solving. Through her undergraduate studies, she developed exposure to financial analysis, economics, business strategy, and analytical decision-making while simultaneously pursuing opportunities to strengthen her technical capabilities through independent projects and certifications. Her intellectual curiosity was characterised by a desire to understand not only what outcomes occur, but why they occur and how they can be predicted or optimised. This interest led her towards topics such as forecasting, optimisation, market analysis, and business intelligence.

TAMANNA YADAV

Academic Focus:

Management, Finance & Business Strategy

Target Country:

UK & EUROPE

Application Year:

2025-26

Admits: IE University, Spain

Tamanna developed a multidisciplinary management application centred around the intersection of global systems, market behaviour, and organisational strategy. Coming from an academic background in Global Affairs, her profile demonstrated a deliberate transition from studying international institutions and policy frameworks to understanding how businesses create value, influence consumer decisions, and navigate complex markets. Her long-term ambition of strengthening and expanding her family's education enterprise provided a clear and authentic foundation for her interest in management, finance, and business strategy.

- ✦ Academic Development & Intellectual Inquiry: Tamanna's academic profile reflected a strong engagement with international political economy, global markets, foreign policy, and social research. Throughout her undergraduate studies, she developed the ability to analyse complex issues through economic, political, and social lenses, building a broad understanding of how institutions and markets shape decision-making. This intellectual development was further reinforced through her research at the Centre for European Studies, where she examined topics such as India's soft-power influence in France and the implications of EU enlargement.
- ✦ Professional Exploration & Strategic Thinking: Tamanna's professional experiences consistently reflected a growing interest in business strategy, market intelligence, and consumer behaviour. Through internships spanning automotive, media, research, and market analysis, she developed practical exposure to how organisations evaluate opportunities and respond to changing market conditions. At EVage Automotive, she conducted competitor benchmarking within the electric vehicle sector, gaining insight into strategic positioning and industry dynamics. Alongside these experiences, her work as a Research Intern and Social Media Manager at the Centre for European Studies allowed her to translate complex research into engaging content, strengthening her understanding of communication, branding, and audience engagement.

Avyukth developed a leadership-driven management application positioned at the intersection of strategic decision-making, team leadership, and business problem-solving. Coming from a Computer Science background, his profile was intentionally built around experiences that demonstrated his ability to lead people, navigate uncertainty, and execute complex initiatives. Avyukth emerged as a candidate seeking to strengthen his managerial capabilities through a Master in Management before pursuing a career in consulting and entrepreneurship.

Academic Focus:

Master in Management (MiM)

Target Country:

UK & EUROPE

Application Year:

2025 - 2026

Admits: IE University

❖ Common Application & Personal Narrative: The central narrative across Avyukth's application was personal growth through challenge. His essays highlighted a willingness to embrace discomfort, learn from setbacks, and continuously push beyond his comfort zone. Through leadership in basketball, large-scale event management, personal adversity, and business exposure, he demonstrated resilience, self-awareness, and accountability. Rather than focusing solely on achievements, his application positioned him as a candidate whose growth was shaped equally by challenges and the lessons that emerged from them.

❖ Academic Development & Intellectual Inquiry: Avyukth's academic foundation in Computer Science equipped him with strong analytical and problem-solving skills. Through his coursework and projects, he developed an interest in applying technology to solve practical challenges, most notably through a Driver Drowsiness Detection System that utilised image processing and real-time monitoring techniques. Complemented by certifications in Excel and digital marketing, his academic profile reflected a growing interest in combining technical knowledge with business and strategic decision-making.

When Rohan began his journey with us, he was unsure about his exact specialisation within pharmaceuticals. Through two years of profile building and mentorship, he discovered his passion for drug discovery and formulation science with a long-term vision of advancing targeted therapies and contributing to global healthcare innovation.

ROHAN ANCHAN

College London

✦ Skill Development: Under the guidance of a Rostrum technical mentor, a Harvard-trained molecular biologist, Rohan built a robust scientific foundation. He completed advanced online courses from Stanford, MIT, and WHO, authored a peer-reviewed research article on mefenamic acid topical spray, and designed a social impact project with the Hemkunt Foundation, improving patient care delivery in low-resource settings. These experiences clarified his academic focus and deepened his understanding of how formulation science can bridge healthcare access gaps.

✦ Application Excellence: Together, we translated Rohan's research and field experience into compelling narratives centred on the science of drug design and delivery. His SOPs emphasised both his technical skillset and social impact orientation, resulting in multiple admits across top US and UK universities. At UCL, he plans to further his expertise in nanoparticle-based drug delivery systems, a stepping stone toward his career goal of becoming a formulation scientist and pursuing a future PhD in pharmaceuticals.

Vertika Chaudhary

UBC, McGill University & University of Washington

"I'm extremely grateful to Aditya for guiding me through my university application journey. With his thorough suggestions, structured interview practice and detailed feedback, I felt confident at every stage of the process. He provided valuable guidance on my essays, helping me present my story clearly and effectively. What truly stood out was his commitment to conducting mock interviews for every round and offering constructive feedback that helped me improve each time. His timely advice and constant support made the entire process much smoother and less stressful. Thanks to his mentorship, I was able to secure offers from UBC, McGill, and the University of Washington, and with University of Toronto's admission round currently in progress."

Nandana Nair

UCLA

“Applying for masters abroad, was an extremely daunting task and completely uncharted territory for me. Rostrum helped through the entire process, by both guiding me and helping me listen to myself, and finding the colleges that fit my goals. I am extremely grateful to the entire team and especially Aditya Mahajan , for keeping me accountable, constantly following up, and helping me prepare for the entire application process and have a chance to be part of my dream universities.”

Avyukth Reddy

EDHEC Business School & IE University

“Rostrum played a key role in my admission journey, providing structured guidance, honest feedback, and consistent support throughout the process. A special thanks to Aditya Mahajan, whose personalized mentorship helped me authentically present my story, strengthen my essays, and prepare effectively for interviews.

With Rostrum’s support, I received admission offers from IE Business School (Spain) and EDHEC Business School. I’m truly grateful for the team’s dedication and would highly recommend Rostrum to anyone seeking thoughtful, personalized guidance for business school applications.”

Sirjan Kaur Bawa

King's College London

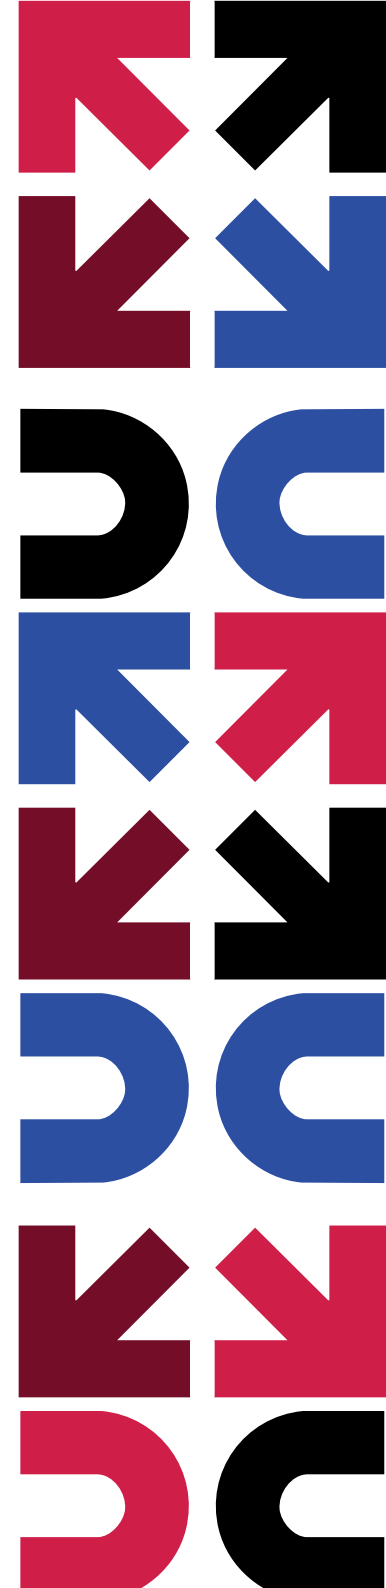

"I'm incredibly grateful to Rostrum for all the support and guidance they gave me throughout my postgraduate psychology applications in the UK. The team was not only highly knowledgeable and professional, but also genuinely kind, patient, and encouraging at every step of the process.

From shortlisting universities to refining my personal statements and preparing my applications, they made what felt like an overwhelming journey so much more manageable. Thanks to their help, I received offers from amazing universities including UCL, King's College London, the University of Edinburgh, and several others!"
